YULETIDE

Christmas is a great occasion for little and grownup children. The tots, however, look forward to the visit of Santa Claus with eager expectation and in a firm belief that the old bewhiskered individual is a real personage who makes a yearly visit, laden with gifts, to good little girls and boys.

TIME OF TRAGEDY

One of the real tragedies of life is when the realization finally comes that old Kris Kringle is a mythical person in one sense of the word. In another he is and always will be real as long as that old saying holds true: "It is more blessed to give than receive."

SOME ONE BLUNDERED

It was not so long ago that a hard-boiled six-year-old stood up and told me that "this Santa Claus stuff is all hokey." Something has gone out of that boy's life that can never be replaced. He will always lack that pleasurable recollection of childhood which is an inseparable part of the joys of Christmas. I wonder who was the iconoclast who destroyed the image? If it was either of his parents they have done damage beyond repair. This child is more likely to take the same hard-boiled attitude regarding other intangible but valuable illusions, which after all add to the zest and sweetness of life. It is to be deeply regretted that as we grow older the tendency is to grow harder and to discard the visions and dreams which have peopled our world of fancy with fairies and other imaginary personages.

A CHILD'S DAY

Christmas is peculiarly a child's day, originating when the wise men of the East, guided by the Star of Bethlehem, came to adore the newborn King.

Richmond Man Is Arrested On Robbery Charges

Joseph S. Davis, 32, of 214 Nevins avenue, an automobile factory worker, is in the city jail awaiting hearing in police court on charges of theft of $75 from the till at the Palm Brothers garage at 2325 Macdonald avenue. Davis denies all charges.

Davis was arrested on the complaint of Tony Pium who with his brothers, Manuel and Frank, operate the garage.

According to police reports, Davis allegedly was at the garage yesterday afternoon in an asserted intoxicated condition. Manuel Pium told police that he saw Davis shortly after the garage was closed and shortly after discovered that $75 in cash and a check for $4 had been taken from the cash register.

Tony Pium called police and an officer was sent to the scene. Shortly afterwards, Davis reappeared at the garage to purchase gasoline and he was questioned by the officer. Although Davis denied that he had stolen the cash, police reported that the sum of $45 was found cached in the seat of his machine and that the accused man had the $4 check in his possession. Davis insisted, however, that he had picked up the check off the floor of the office.

Upon discovery of the cash and check, Davis was taken to the city jail to await hearing in police court.

New Clipper May Hop Off In Afternoon

ALAMEDA, Dec. 7.—UP.—With 15,000 pieces of mail aboard, the Pan American Airways Philippines Clipper today awaited word from Washington that would send the giant plane across the Pacific on a contract air mail flight to Manila.

Scheduled originally to have left Friday, soon after the China Clipper came home from the first mail-carrying flight, the second of Pan American's transoceanic flying boats was held at the air base here by orders from the postoffice department.

The delay was occasioned by the request of Honolulu postoffice authorities that its cargo of mail be delivered there on some day other than Saturday or Sunday in order to speed distribution.

It was expected government orders would release the plane for a take-off at 3:06 P. M. on either Sunday or Monday.

Pan-American headquarters reported it still was undecided on the personnel of the crew which will make the flight. Two crews are available.

DONOHUE IS LASHED BY STATE CHIEF

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—UP.—Governor Merriam, in a speech to night, at a banquet celebrating a two day session of the California Forest Association, lashed out against the critics of his Administration, especially at the best-dressed committee of which Assemblyman Leon M. Donohue of Oakland is chairman, and which has been investigating various departments of the state government.

"Donohue hasn't discovered a thing that the state government itself did not know," Merriam said heatedly. "Donohue hasn't produced a thing that wasn't taken from the files of my finance director, A. E. Stockburger—things that Stockburger pledged that I would check up every department of the state government to see where we could effect stringent economies."

HANDS NOT CLEAN

"I object," he continued, "to any body making an investigation who does not come with clean hands. The chairman of this committee (Donohue) has not come with such clean hands. He has made purchases from his own revolving fund."

Police said tonight Oster had made a full confession. It was said Oster's discontent with the food was of long standing.

Burleson was shot three times with a .25 caliber automatic. One bullet, apparently fired from the rear, entered the right side and lodged near Burleson's heart. The two other shots fired from the front struck him full in the face.

The body was found in a pantry entryway by Private O. C. Smith. The shooting took place about 2 P. M., Army authorities said. Burleson's home was in Birmingham, Ala.

AFRICA KING IS BOMBED SECOND TIME

ADDIS ABABA, Dec. 7.—UP.—Italian planes dropped bombs on the headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie and his chiefs, concentrated with their troops at Dessale, II Duce thundered his defiance before a cheering, enthusiastic chamber of deputies.

PALACE BOMBED

More than 50 projectiles from four planes rained hits on and around the emperor's palace, virtually demolishing its destruction. As in the case of yesterday's bombing, it was made the chief target.

In ordinary bombs and more fire were started. It was not believed casualties were great, as the inhabitants were warned when the planes approached and quickly scattered to places of safety.

TROOPS ARE TARGETS

In addition to attacking the palace, the planes bombed the concentration of troops.

Two Are Shot In Attempt To Rob Armed Money Car

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—UP.—Two men were shot, one probably fatally tonight, when four bandits attempted to holdup an armored money truck.

The seriously wounded man was Edward Dee, one of the alleged robbers, who was dressed as a police man.

Dee was shot in the chest by Henry Arnold, Jr., driver of the truck. Arnold told police he grabbed Lee's revolver after being shot in the leg and then turned the gun on the bandit. Both were taken to a hospital.

Another man with Dee fled. It was believed he also was wounded. Two other bandits who were waiting in an automobile drove away without assisting their companions.

The money truck had been driven in front of a chain grocery to remove the day's receipts to a bank. As Arnold carried the money from the store, two of the bandits attempted to follow him into the truck. The shooting followed.

Local Cafe Is Damaged By Fire

Damage estimated at $150 was caused by a fire of unknown origin shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday morning at a restaurant operated by Otto Keller at 924 Macdonald avenue.

The fire was discovered by Patrolman H. V. Dirion of the police department, who turned in an alarm and then, forced open the door. He was able to extinguish the blaze, which started in a drawer behind the counter, before firemen arrived.

While news was being received from Africa of the renewed bombing of Emperor Haile Selassie's headquarters at Dessale, II Duce thundered his defiance before a cheering, enthusiastic chamber of deputies.

"On the 35th day of sanctions, we will have the same courage and the same determination as on the first day," he said.

Declaring that Italy must make her position in Africa clear "once and for all," he continued:

PEACE PROPOSALS

Despite his refusal to back down in the slightest from Italy's demands, Mussolini recognized that peace negotiations are in progress and did not close the door to the prospect that they might succeed, if what Italy regards as her rights are recognized.

Diplomats believed the speech would not make further negotiations impossible, because Mussolini announced no new measure which might complicate the situation.

Although he made no concessions, he did not increase his demands.

ATMOSPHERE IS HOPEFUL

The fact that negotiations are in progress in Paris between Britain and France, was believed to have tempered his speech. He altered its text at the last moment after conferring with Sir Eric Drummond, the British ambassador, and Count Charles de Chamberlain, French ambassador.

The ambassadors were understood to have told him that the atmosphere in Paris is hopeful. Sir Eric renewed Britain's appeal to him to make peace when he conveyed the text of the speech of Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary, in the House of Commons on Thursday, in which Sir Samuel made an earnest plea for conciliation.

Winners' Row

Gaillard, a bundle of greyhound with a long graceful stride, moved into the front ranks as a three-time winner at the El Cerrito Kennel club track last night.

Owner Tim Scott scored a double with two fast dogs, "Blanks" in the seventh and Royal Plunder in the eighth, the latter clinching the $12,500 title with Sampson's Even Row, winner of the sixth race.

Betty Mac ran the race of his life to take a shrewd decision over Evening Starlight and Big Butano in a spectacular blanket finish of Saturday's feature futurity. Johnny Greenwood, the racing secretary, did a splendid job the dogs being tightly bunched all the way.

FOR SCARSELLA
TURNED DOWN

Les Scarsella, former Richmond Union High School star athlete is attracting the attention of baseball experts in the east as a result of his work at first base and at bat in eastern minor league teams.

Scarsella was signed by the Cincinnati club two years ago and went to the Elmira, a Class C league. This year he was promoted to the Wilmington team in the Piedmont league where he led the league in stolen bases and finished the season with a .350 batting average. He played the third week of the 1934 season with the Reds.

At a meeting Friday night of major and minor leagues at Chicago, the Cincinnati owners were offered $20,000 for the local youth by the New York Giants. The offer was declined.

The St. Louis Sporting News leader, in discussing the Cincinnati owners need of a first baseman said recently:

"Les Scarsella, a mighty prom using young first sacker who played several games there for the Reds this year after having a successful season on the Wilmington farm, is another possibility for the Red first base job in 1936."

"Bill Terry, manager of the Giants, and one of the great first basemen of all-time, who is highly anxious to obtain a man to succeed him as first baseman of the Giants, offered $20,000 cash on the barrel head for Scarsella's release at the recent minor league meeting in Dayton and met with a flat refusal."

"But that didn't stop Memphis Bill. He continued his attempt to buy title to the young Italian."

"Terry may renew his offer at the major league gathering in Chicago next week, he may even boost Scarsella's price to $50,000, he may pitch or outbribe."

"However, even if MacPhail resists all future offers by Terry for a transfer of Scarsella's services before next spring, it is more than likely that Scarsella will play first base for either North Worth or Toronto next season. The boy's career in professional ball has shown, so the Redleg master minds believe, that it is best to advance him gradually instead of jumping him two or three classes at a time. This year's experience with McCormick also will cause the Red bosses to stop, look and listen before trying to shove Scarsella up the ladder too swiftly."

Warren Dutton, Santa Clara end, however, provided the game with its greatest thrill. Fighting off a steady, back-logged march, Santa Clara was downed to their own 32 in the third quarter. Then Montgomery fumbled and Dutton took the ball out of the air and sped to the 25 yard line, where he lateraled to Dowd, just as the pack caught him. Dowd crossed the goal line standing up. The try for point was wide.

funds—doing the very things he objects to in others.

"Donohue has purchased six automobiles through his revolving fund."

"Donohue's investigation has been temporarily stopped because Stockburger has stopped paying out money for Donohue's committee in violation of state law."

FAVORED INVESTIGATION
Governor Merriam said he was heartily in favor of the investigation.

"Such investigation, however," he added, "is only what I myself promised to do and what I have been doing since I was elected."

"I'll tell you what I'll do, if Mr. Donohue wants to continue his investigation, I'll provide him the money for the purpose but it will be money provided in accordance with state law. I'll give Mr. Donohue money from the state emergency funds."

NEW DEAL TO LEAD BUSINESS OR ELSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—UP—George L. Berry warned industry tonight that if it fails to accept government leadership, the country may head toward another depression.

"Any plan of action ignoring the government's natural leadership in the nation's affairs, is but a shadowy substitute and must certainly fail," the president's co-ordinator of industrial co-operation said.

WARNING GIVEN
Berry warned the 3,000 business and labor leaders meeting here Monday to discuss industrial co-operation that they "must meet squarely the problems of unemployment, tax and public debt."

"If this conference does not answer one other will," he said.

In an interview, Berry said that unless business itself provides employment for the 11,000,000 jobless men it must continue to pay the bill for relief through high taxes and possibly increasing Federal deficits.

Business must foot the bill in either case, he said.

WIDE DIFFERENCE

Replies to the 5,000 invitation to the conference revealed a "wide difference" of opinion on the part of the government should take in directing industrial co-operation, Berry said. "Some industrialists favor a complete 'hands off' policy for the government," he said. "Others are inclined to varying types of government regulation, labor undoubtedly will make proposals."

Berry said he was confident a program of co-operative industry—government action, representing the view of "thousands of investors, business officers and labor leaders" would evolve from the conference.

General Sosa will be chairman of the commission and therefore head of the project.

NEW STATE

Establishment of the new state with the sanction of the central government would possibly eliminate the independent autonomous country which Japan's military leaders have been trying to create in the province of Shantung. It thus would reward Sun King's desire to return to Chinese control of the rich, vast, areas of the northern province, save the province of the Central government and guard it from charges of being pro-Japanese.

Additional confirmation that the projected Chinese autonomous state has the backing of the Central government came from the fact that reports were current in Nanking, the capital, that it would be set up.

RADIO, PLANES AID WOMAN ON XMAS VOYAGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—UP—Thanks to modern means of transportation and communication, a young Swedish mother and her child, Erik, 2, were hoisted aboard the Swedish-American liner Gripsholm at Ambrose lightship in the lower bay four hours after it sailed this afternoon.

The Gripsholm was the last craft leaving that could put them in Gulltenberg, Sweden, in time for the holidays.

Mrs. Drimmer's transcontinental race started yesterday in Los Angeles where she boarded an airplane scheduled to reach here just before the Gripsholm sailed.

Mrs. Drimmer's husband is a medical student at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The young wife's trip was an eventful enough until she reached Cleveland. There, her plane being late, it was apparent she could not reach New York in time to get the Gripsholm.

She spoke no English, but after the plane left Cleveland for New York, two fellow passengers who understood Swedish, discovered her plight.

They radioed the Swedish-American line and asked that the Gripsholm be held off Ambrose lightship. Assured by the company that it would be held a reasonable time, they then reached Newark airport and asked that an amphibian plane be held in readiness.

Mrs. Drimmer and her baby were bundled from the transcontinental plane to the amphibian and off they went in pursuit of the Gripsholm.

Pilot William Quirk maneuvered the seaplane over the liner for ten minutes before he dared risk a landing on the choppy waters. Finally he brought it down against the wind on the lee side.

The hard or pilot's boat put out a towboat and it took Mrs. Drimmer, her baby bundled in her arms over the rough sea to the liner.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

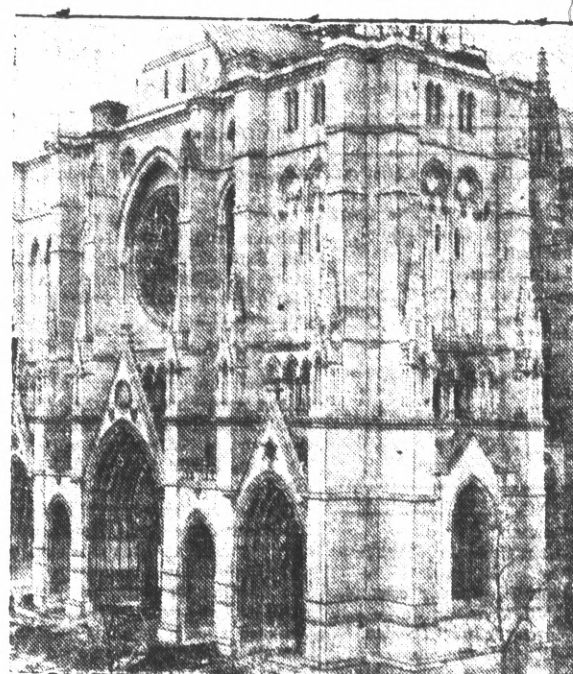

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and purification, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—UP—verify his re-entry certificate. The late arrival of the Toki Maru made it impossible to immigration records impossible until today.

During the convention, routine business was conducted by an "ex-ample" staff while phases of the work of the order were exemplified by the lodges.

A program was presented, with each of the visiting lodges contributing a number.

At conclusion of the affair a delicious banquet was served.

Two other sons, Press of Los Angeles and Roy of Compton, were unable to be here, but plan to come up for Christmas.

Present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Argyle Adams of Berkeley (son); Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nikola of Martinez (daughter); Roy Nikola, Jr., Sylvia Jean Adams Treffy and Ted Ross (grandchildren).

OFFICERS OF BEACON GROUP ARE INSTALLED

Officers for the new year were installed last evening when Beacon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held its meeting in the Masonic Hall.

The installation ceremonies attracted a large crowd of members, friends and guests.

Honored guests of the evening were Willie Jane Hellwig, past grand matron of the state of California and Cecil Hines, deputy grand matron.

Nellie Day, past matron and James Walker, past patron, were the installing officers, assisted by Sarah Spies, installing musician; Julia Overa, installing marshal; and Olive Ledgewood, honorary.

PROLAPSE

Prolapse, or falling of the organs, is more common than is generally supposed. In fact, at least 90 per cent of the women presenting themselves for examination have prolapse in some degree.

The Wonderful Combination of Organs That Makes Speech Possible

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

IT IS safe to assume that the development of speech begins with the first moments of life. The child's first cry is probably only a reflex, due to the sudden change of temperature in the skin and the first efforts to breathe. Possibly for the next few weeks crying is only a reflex irritation from hunger and pain.

Later it becomes a voluntary performance as the child learns that crying will result in attention from its mother. The act of crying is the first step in the preparation for speech; this, together with exercising the arms and kicking the legs, develops all the organs necessary for the formation of spoken sound.

During rest a regular lifting and dropping of the chest takes place with little use of the elevating muscles, but in speech it is necessary to inhale quickly and prevent a quick exhalation. This is the physiological necessity for speech.

Toward the middle of the first year the child commences to babble. There is no rhyme nor reason to it. It is simply a throaty sound. Even the deaf child babbles. The babbling can be increased by exciting the child to expressions of joy, by motions of laughter and expressive gestures.

Beginning of Speech

This babbling is but the beginning of articulate speech. The primitive sounds are formed and executed by children by ear and are repeated over and over again. Articulate speech begins about the end of the first year. Single words are pronounced more or less distinctly, but their meaning is not probable. Speaking and understanding are two different things.

The next step is the production of the understood words. These words are usually those expressing desire or protest. The whole process of speech is one of slow mental and physical development, and unless hampered by deformities or injuries will produce a complete pattern.

Speech sounds are the result partly of breathing and partly of so-called articulation, or control and management of sound waves through the speaking trumpet. This trumpet is made up of the mouth, the nose and its sinuses, the pharynx, down the windpipe to the vocal cords.

It becomes large when the vocal cords descend or the lips are pushed out, and shorter when they are drawn up and the mouth widened.

Oral and nasal sounds are the two distinct varieties. Oral sounds are produced when the soft palate is drawn up and the muscles of the pharynx arched up so as to shut up the nasal cavity and force the sound out through the mouth.

Nasal sounds are those made when the palate and throat muscles are not closed and the air is forced through the mouth and out the nose. These sounds are m, n, and ng. All other English sounds are oral. Anything that interferes with the action of these muscles or any deformity of the mouth or nasal cavities causes a change in the natural formation of the sound trumpet and brings about defective speech.

Types of the Defect

The most important of these are cleft palate, hare lip, deformed tongue, obstruction of the nose, paralysis of any of the muscles of the throat, tongue-tie, tonsils enlarged so as to obstruct the flow of air, or contraction of muscles.

Accidental injury to the throat or mouth or paralysis, such as paralysis of the soft palate following diphtheria, interfere with clear enunciation and require either surgery or mechanical correction or special training.

Hare lip and cleft palate can usually be corrected by surgery if begun early. If not, molds and plates similar to those a dentist makes to hold artificial teeth, may be fitted so as to close the defect and enable air to pass out through the nose. Many ingenious flexible plates have been devised for correcting these deficiencies.

It is very wonderful to observe what trained teachers can do for the correction of speech defects. We only hope that our economic condition may soon allow all our schools to employ special teachers for these cases.

The world renowned case of Helen Keller shows that the almost impossible can be accomplished. She had a brilliant mind, but oh! the wonderful ingenuity and patience of her teacher!

War Reaches Paris (Styles)

War has come to Paris—the military mode seems to have taken command of the style situation and if we follow the dictates of the new fashions, we'll all be wearing frocks with soldier-effects. The new style has brought back trimming which has been absent for so long.

Profiles For Today

Dusolina Giannini in Opera at Last

By TALBOT LAKE

NO MAN—or woman—is a hero to the old home town, according to an old proverb which is very much misquoted. Such seems to be the case with Dusolina Giannini, the American dramatic soprano, who, after many years' effort, has finally been signed by the Metropolitan Opera House. Miss Giannini has appeared in this country many times as a concert artist, but has never sung in opera here. This is all the more unusual because on the continent she has won enormous success as an acting singer.

I remember hearing her sing with a symphony orchestra a few years back and thinking at the time how well that full, resonant voice would sound if set amid the scenery and hubbub of a "La Gioconda" or a "Cavalleria Rusticana." Of the striking Italian type of beauty, she would be just the type for the heroic sort of role which is beloved by the average citizen.

An unknown, substituting for Anna Case at Carnegie Hall, in 1923, she made a sensational success and was thereupon claimed by Europe. She was a first magnitude star in several European countries. She has made concert tours in this country, but this season will mark her first appearance in opera.

The family lived in Philadelphia. Her father, Feruccio Giannini, was a dramatic tenor. At 16, his daughter studied under Sembrich. She was pressing a skirt in her boarding house when she got the hurry-call to Carnegie—to roundabout fame in Europe, and finally acclaim at home.

Short Cuts

A folding breakfast tray is a useful household article, whether one takes breakfast in bed or not. For if you have not one vice, you are sure to have the other—the habit of reading in bed. At any rate, a breakfast tray always comes in handy when someone is ill. The tray referred to has a firm support on both ends and holds everything steady. It is easily tilted for reading.

Routine Best Way to Keep Young Looks

By JACQUELINE HUNT

MAKE a game of transforming yourself from a drab, colorless sort of person into a charming, pretty individual everyone wants to know. Do not waste your energy fretting because you are not blessed with perfect features and a peaches-and-cream complexion.

The latter can be acquired and the first is essential to a charming, vivacious personality. Go about the things you do with a definite purpose in mind, but not the kind of purpose that keeps you tense and strained. You can do much more if you go about living with a sort of nonchalant ease.

Assemble the cosmetics and plan the beauty routine that will make your skin so clear and fair that it seems like delicate ivory with your medium brown hair and your gray or blue or hazel eyes. If you are past twenty-five your problem is not so simple, still it is not difficult. You will need the following preparations in addition to your carefully chosen decorative cosmetics.

Choose these preparations carefully and when you find something that should be right for your skin give it an honest test. If after three or four weeks there isn't a definite improvement, change the treatment of the cosmetics.

When you do find the things that help your skin stick to them until some new condition indicates the need for a change. Do not be forever trying one thing and then another. Too many cosmetics, indiscriminately used, can do your skin real harm.

Among the things on your dressing table a good cleansing cream will come first. Select one that has a thin fluffy texture and melts the minute it touches your skin if your skin is normal or already fine to be dry, use a slightly different cream and leave it on a minute longer. Use the cleansing cream during the day when you renew your makeup and before your night sleep and water cleansing. Wipe away all of the soiled cleansing cream with tissues and then wash.

Every skin needs a pure, bland soap and a complexion brush that does a thorough cleansing job and stimulates the circulation. Many of the better soaps are now getting little combination sets of really excellent soap and small firm bristled complexion brushes. Rinse your skin as carefully as you wash it.

Have a good tissue cream and use it two or three times a week, oftener if you have past your thirtieth birthday. Tissue creams contain gentle, stimulating oils that lubricate your skin and keep it soft and firm.

Skin tonic or astringent comes next. This is necessary for keeping the pores fine and free from blemishes. Experiment until you find that is right for your skin, or if you cannot afford to experiment, which hazel diluted with rose water makes a satisfactory tonic for many skins.

In applying tonic or astringent, use a patting or a pad of clean cotton that has been squeezed out of cold water. Pat gently but rapidly from the base of your neck to your chin, then from the cheeks along the jawbone to the temple and from the chin over your cheeks. The gentle pulling and lifting, combined with the patting, is good for the skin and for toning lazy muscles.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "Can you tell me if chicken, fish and eggs could cause pimples? I have a dreadful skin and would like to try to improve it by dieting."—M.

Unless you have an allergy to the foods you mention there is no reason why they should cause any digestive disturbance that would result in pimples. However, your diet may be otherwise unbalanced. An excess of sweets, fats and starches in your diet will definitely lead to an excessive production of the skin which is directly responsible for pimples and other skin ailments.

Eat more fresh and dried fruits, green leafy vegetables and skimmed milk, with lean meat, eggs and fish included in your menus once or twice daily. Cod liver oil and vitamin-and-mineral-rich tomato and orange juice will also build up your resistance and discourage the pimples. For local treatment, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on blackheads and acne.

Luxurious Furs Feature New York's Horse Show

By IRENE VAIL

NEW YORK—If any lingering doubts of the depression are disturbing your peace of mind, New York's annual horse show should lay them to rest. Always the occasion for thoroughbred fashions, this year's display outdid itself. As usual, luxurious furs were the outstanding note. This year it was the fur cape that carried away the blue ribbon. Capes were of all shapes and sizes. By all means have a fur cape if this is your fur buying year. A fur cape or a fur sweater coat.

Two weeks for daytime, velvets for evening is the style message flashed from the arena. Black velvet is an old, old story, but still one of the smartest ever told. In all fairness, however, I must report that many women who forgo velvet for black not only wear the best, but the only thing to wear for great occasions, are seen about in color. It's a reflection of the rich Renaissance, of course, and is particularly lovely when velvet is chosen.

There never was a type of hat more flattering to women than a velvet one, especially when veiled—and permitting generous views of a beautiful coiffure. Such hats, in most amusing shapes, as well as

Modes and Manners

QUESTION: "Upon entering a restaurant recently I met a chap who used to go to school with me. He was sitting all alone and asked me to join him. After dinner, he took up both checks, but I insisted that he let me pay for my own dinner, which he did after a while. But I noticed I had embarrassed him. Wasn't it my place to pay for my own dinner?—Luc C."

ANSWER: Not under the circumstances described. The gentleman need not have asked you to sit at his table. Having accepted the invitation, you should have accepted his willingness to pay with better grace. After all, you sat down as his invited guest. The privilege of being, therefore, was his. It was not wrong for you to attempt to pay your own check; your mistake rather was in pressing the point. It made the situation awkward.

QUESTION: "May sewing 'bag' be used on morning 'tailorery'?"—Mrs. C. McGee

ANSWER: Yes, if it is black wax.

Nuts Present Novel Dishes For the Table

By JUDITH WILSON

WOMEN are beginning to realize that nuts are more than something to be nibbled on between meals or stuffed into the spaces left in the Christmas stockings. They appreciate the richness, flavor and crunchiness that nuts give to their menus and they are beginning to keep nuts on hand for everyday use.

Nuts may be purchased in almost any way—in the "paper shells" that growers have developed for convenience already shelled, and even chopped, if you want to save time, or glazed with a rich coat of candy and packed into decorated boxes that make grand Christmas gifts.

SUNDAY SUPPERS
Cocktails
Deviled Almond Canapes
Cheese and Tomato Raribet on Toast Points
Sweet Pickles Stuffed Celery
Date-Nut Torte with Ice Cream
Coffee

Bouillon Cheese Sticks
Jellied Chicken Loaf with Stuffed Tomato Salad
Hot Buttered Finger Rolls
Pumpkin Nut Tarts
Spiced Cider

What can you do with nuts besides eating them or adding them to home-made candies? Add them to the stuffings of your holiday fowls, use them for garnishing and enriching salads, add them to vegetable dishes or meat loaves, nut breads and desserts of every kind. These recipes will give you an idea of the numerous uses for nuts.

Cinnamon-Nut Rolls
Mix and sift together 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Rub in 5 tablespoons shortening, stir in 2/3 cup milk and work lightly to a smooth dough. Roll into a sheet 18x8 inches and spread with softened butter. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon and 1/4 cup sliced Brazil nuts. Roll dough as for a jelly roll and slice crosswise. Place the rolls in buttered muffin tins. Bake in a hot oven about 12 minutes or until brown.

Mashed Squash with Nuts
Cut Hubbard squash in pieces, remove the seeds and stringy portions and bake in a moderate oven for 1 hour or until tender. Scoop out of the shell. Mash, add cream or melted butter enough to moisten and season well with salt, pepper and nutmeg. Add 1 cup sliced, roasted Brazil nuts to every 4 cups seasoned squash.

Date-Nut Torte
Mix 1/2 cup flour or sifted, dry bread crumbs with a pinch salt, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder. Beat 1 egg until stiff and beat in 1/2 cup sugar. Add 1/4 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup sliced dates and 1/2 cup chopped nuts (walnuts or pecans are nice). Stir in the flour mixture and spread in a baking pan about 3/4 of an inch thick. Bake in a slow oven for 45 to 60 minutes or until the surface will spring back when pressed lightly with the forefinger. Cut in squares and serve warm with whipped cream or a small scoop of vanilla ice cream on each one.

Deviled Almond Canapes
Blanch and chop enough almonds to make 4 canapes. Sauté until light brown in 1/4 cup

MODERN WOMEN

A Good Pic Is Worth Its Weight in Gold, So Why Not Bake It?

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

THE theory that love and marriage have nothing in common may or may not be true, for marriage does not lend itself to generalization.

Now pie, for instance, can be treated in a manner quite general. And pie is my subject for the moment, because it seems to be an important part of life, love, and marriage. With a chicken in every pot, good pie in the cupboard, and two cars in every garage there would be nothing to squabble about.

Some few days ago I read an appalling stack of figures showing the amount of pie consumed in the United States over a period of a year. And that made me think of the stacks of territory pie I consumed during the dining-out years of my life. There seems to be a discrepancy of some sort in an industrial system that keeps so far behind demand.

A little old lady I know in New York gets a dollar a pie because her pies are good, but like all artists she has never been able to manipulate money in such manner that she can become a factory over night, with hundreds of delivery cars running about filling requirements. And, of course, it is quite obvious that if some promoter put her over, she would cease to be any good. The efficiency gentlemen and the experts who learned to make pie at college would step into the picture, and that would be the end of the Pie Perfect. Mass production and excellence unfortunately do not often walk hand in hand.

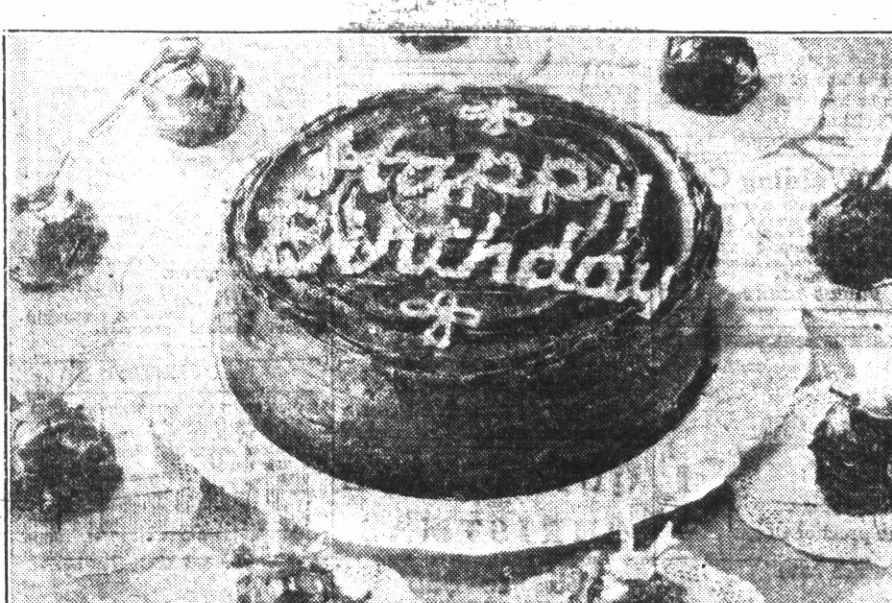

Quality and Quantity

My baker, who is a chain store magnate, lets it be known through his myrmidons that he could make better pie if his customers would pay more for his product. There we come again to the mass production basis and the attendant falling off in quality when one signs at quantity. I agree with the baker, but believe he should departmentalize his pie business, possibly have several grades, thus giving those addicts and fanatics who will pay any price for the best, but believe me, the fuller he hung it back she knew that Helen would never wear it. One by one mother held up the other dresses. There was a comment for each one. This one made her look like a baby, Helen declared. That one: "You know I hate brown." Finally, mother held up a dress that she caught the child's interest. "Gee," she exclaimed, "I didn't know I still had that one." Mother handed it to the child unenthusiastically. She herself had never liked that dress. It was one the child had been allowed to pick out. And ever since then, mother had made sure to do the choosing.

As in this case, when a child is hard to please in the matter of dress, or does not take care of her clothes, it may be because mother imposes her taste upon her.

Butter. Mix 1 tablespoon finely chopped chutney, 2 sweet pickles, finely chopped, 1/4 teaspoon salt, a dash of cayenne pepper and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Mix well with the almonds and spread on small rounds of bread that have been fried until brown in butter.

FOR THAT BIRTHDAY.

Granted, you know how to bake a cake, the frosting may make trouble. Here's a simple chocolate one:
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 1/2 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk, 1 tablespoon water.
Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk, stir over boiling water five minutes until it thickens. Add water. Cool. Spread on cold cake.
Now for the butter frosting to make the letters: 2 tablespoons butter, 1/4 cup sweetened condensed milk, 1 1/2 cups confectioner's sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.
Cream butter and sweetened condensed milk thoroughly. Add gradually sifted confectioner's sugar and beat until the frosting is smooth creamy and light in color. Other flavors than vanilla may be used. This frosting may be tinted any color by the addition of a little food coloring.

The Erudite Girls

Young ladies too often are all nerves. They are so frightfully intense that they wear a man down in no time at all. They seem determined to show off their learning and to impress men with their superior mental qualifications. Men do not like women who pretend to be smart. They never mean well by sophisticated women, either, as they take them at their own valuation, one that often brings grief to the ladies themselves.

I often wonder if a girl with a magnificent flair for apple pie wouldn't register with greater force than these tiresome young creatures who talk incessantly about nothing. If I know anything at all about men—although it isn't likely that anybody ever really masters the study of men—there is a demand in this country for good cooks and fewer intellectuals, synthetic and otherwise.

I can hear the faint voice of protest emanating from the business woman's corner. They claim that in order to get anything out of life in the shape of luxuries they must toil and help their husbands augment the family income. This sort of argument does not always ring true. The wage scale for women is too small to make up the difference between eating out and eating at home. Not to mention the difference between eating good food and bad. I suggest, we get back to original principles and breed more bread and cake bakers and fewer semi-professionals.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of spirit.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down and out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a tick, bad taste and your breath is foul. You often break out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

If taken three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for CARTER'S Little Liver Pills. Look for the name CARTER'S Little Liver Pills on the red label. There's a substitute. 50c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

78 Arrested, 10 Are Injured In Egyptian Riots

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 7. UP—Anti-British rioting that broke out anew with the reopening of the Cairo university caused the arrest of 78 and the injury of ten police including three British officers.

One of the officers involved in an altercation for a fractured skull following one of the clashes on Al-hazkha. The others were wounded by shots fired by Egyptian sympathizers.

The demonstration started at the University of Cairo, where class rooms were turned into anti-British meetings.

The University was reopened for the first time today, since it was closed during the demonstrations several weeks ago.

Ten thousand lined speeches at the university denouncing Sir Samuel Hoare, British Foreign secretary, in protest against British activities in the Italo-Ethiopian war.

Steel-helmeted police patrolled the streets in trucks throughout the day as students marched from the university through the city. Extra guards were ordered for the crowded theater district.

Don't Take Pills For Constipation

Ordinary pills taken to relieve constipation merely force a movement of the bowels without making the liver discharge its excess bile. That's why the trouble returns in a day or two and you have to swallow more pills.

What every constipated person needs is a good liver tonic. A laxative so thoroughly cleanses the digestive system of all toxic accumulations and at the same time restores the liver to its normal, healthy, working order.

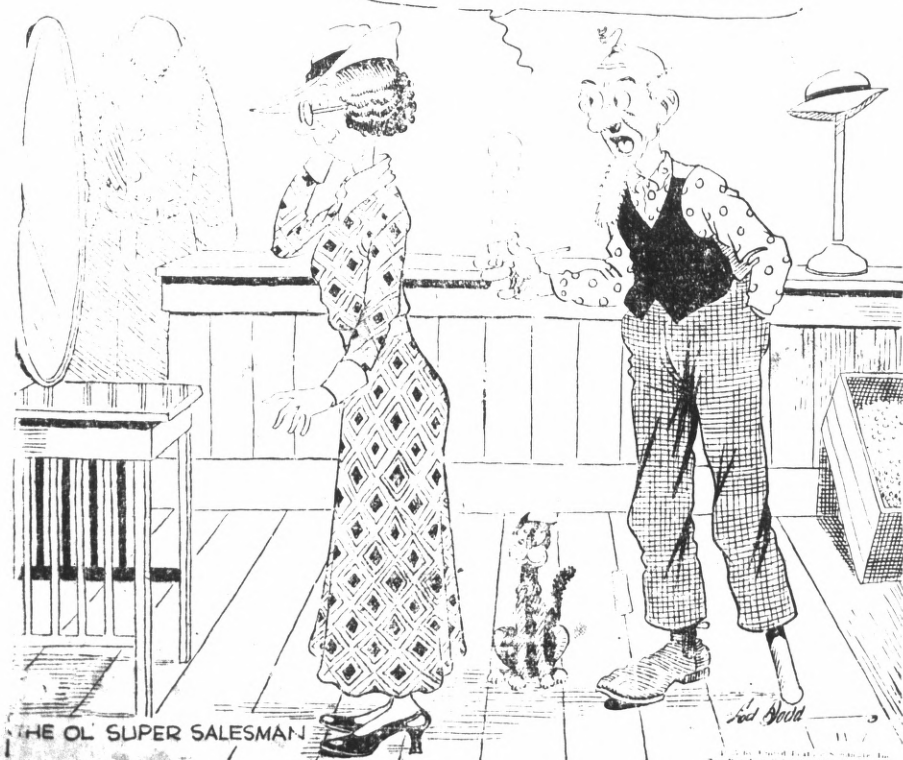

When this is done you will no longer have frequent headaches, coated tongue, yellow skin, sour stomach, gas, bilious attacks or other symptoms of constipation and liver trouble.

REAL CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

The spirit of Christmas is both beautiful and sublime. It imparts in us, both large and small the desire of helpfulness, the wish to impart joy to others. The thought was beautifully exemplified only a few days ago through a tiny lassie of my acquaintance. Her ideas of money are necessarily limited and to her mind a dime is wealth beyond the dreams of avarice. Down town with her grandmother she was looking over the tempting array of presents. Her purse was slender but there was a big heart in her small body. God bless her. She looked over the wares with a calculating eye and finally turning to her escort, said: "Grandmother I will buy you anything you want, if it does not cost more than a dime." That same spirit fostered and encouraged will make a wonderful woman of this child.

If we become as little children in our hearts, our lives will be characterized by service, the giving to and doing for others, which after the score is finally totaled, is the only thing that matters after all.

Webb Upholds Contention Of Judge Johnson

communication of recent date wherein you state that a continuing has arisen in your county between you and the District Attorney over the interpretation of Section 925 of the Penal Code. You state that a short time ago a criminal investigation was had before the Grand Jury and the District Attorney expressed an intention to have the transcripts of the testimony made and delivered to the public press during the period of investigation, that upon ascertaining such intention you instructed the photographic reporter, not to transcribe the testimony taken before the Grand Jury, but that the District Attorney called the newspaper men in before the investigation was completed and gave to them a narrative of the testimony of the different witnesses before the Grand Jury. You state that it is your view that the District Attorney had no right to give to the public testimony of witnesses and you ask the opinion of this office upon the question.

Section 925 of the Penal Code provides in part:

"The Grand Jury, whenever criminal cases are being investigated before them, must appoint a competent stenographic reporter, to be sworn and to report the testimony that may be given in such cases in shorthand, and to transcribe the same in all cases where an indictment is returned. Said reporter shall, within ten days thereafter, certify and file with the county clerk an original transcription of his shorthand notes. The County Clerk shall deliver the original of said transcript so filed with him to the District Attorney immediately upon his receipt thereof. The County Clerk shall not exhibit said transcript to any person other than the District Attorney, nor disclose any of the contents thereof until after the defendant is in custody."

Section 903 of the Penal Code, which prescribes the oath to be administered to Grand Jurors, provides in part:

"You will keep your own counsel, and that of your fellows and of the government, and will not, except when required in the due course of judicial proceedings, disclose the testimony of any witness examined before you, nor anything which you or any other grand juror may have voted on any matter before you."

Section 169 of the Penal Code provides that every grand juror who, except when required by a court, willfully discloses any evidence adduced before the grand jury, or anything which he himself or any other member of the grand jury may have said, or in what manner he or any other grand juror may have voted on any matter before them, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

It is apparent from these sections that the law contemplates that proceedings before the grand jury be secret and that no disclosure be made as to facts testified to before such grand jury by witnesses. No reason exists for prohibiting disclosures on the part of the grand jurors themselves if the District Attorney or other county officers could make such disclosures, and it is my opinion therefore that the District Attorney is not authorized to have transcripts of the testimony taken before the Grand Jury delivered to the press, nor should the District Attorney divulge any information which he acquired from witnesses testifying before such grand jury.

Very truly yours,
U. S. WEBB,
Attorney General
by RALPH W. MORROW,
Deputy.

AAU Tables Plan To Withdraw U. S. From '36 Olympics

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. UP—The Amateur Athletic Union today tabled a resolution demanding the American Olympics committee withdraw from the Berlin Olympic games, thus crushing forces which sought to block American participation because of alleged Nazi racial and religious intolerance.

Vote on the motion was 61 11-20 to table and 55 7-60 against.

The motion to recommend the Olympic committee withdraw its acceptance of an invitation to go to Germany, was presented by Louis Di Benedetto, of the Southern Association.

It charged that Germany had promised to be impartial toward Jewish athletes but had failed of fulfilling these promises and that the Nazi government was waging war upon Christianity.

The motion to table was made by E. J. Walsh, of New York, and seconded by Roscoe C. Torrance, of Seattle.

LITTLE HOPE OF VERDICT FOR BRUNO

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—UP—Competent Supreme Court observers tonight have Richard Bruno Hauptmann but one chance in five, at best, of gaining any delay from the high court in his fight against a sentence of death for the kidnapping and murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

Estimates of Hauptmann's chances for a Supreme Court delay ranged from one out of five to one in one hundred.

DECISION MADE
The estimates were based on observation of previous Supreme Court rulings in similar criminal case pleas. Except in most extraordinary circumstances the high court has not, in the past, intervened.

The decision of the court in the Hauptmann plea was generally believed to have been made today, at the court's weekly Saturday conference.

VERDICT ON MONDAY
If the court has decided, it will announce the verdict Monday, an hour or two after meeting in its marble-pillared and velvet-hung court room at noon.

The Hauptmann decision Monday will vie with the New Deal for attention as the court prepares to examine the Administration's farm program.

In addition to acting on Hauptmann's plea, the court is expected to:

DECISION AWAITED

1. Decide the right of the Federal Government to punish in the Federal courts persons who steal cotton from bonded warehouses under the cotton warehouse licensing act.

2. Decide the right of building and loan associations with State charters to transfer to a Federal charter without State consent.

Both of these issues, involving a conflict of Federal and State powers may prove of great significance as far as the New Deal is concerned.

Immediately after reading the opinions the court will hear argument on the validity of the AAA.
